

EMPLOYERS PLEASED WITH TECHNICAL COLLEGE GRADUATES

More than 90 percent of graduates of Wisconsin Technical Colleges stay in Wisconsin to live and work. According to results from the Wisconsin Technical College System Employer Satisfaction Survey:

- Employers who hire MSTC graduates are very satisfied with their employee's technical college education.
- 96% said they would hire a technical college graduate again.

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics predicts more jobs over the next decade will require technical and occupational degrees than any other type of degree.

“New workforce skills were required to fully realize the benefits of $75 million in capital improvements for production expansion, the largest capital investment the company has made in a manufacturing facility. The training from Mid-State Technical College was essential to our growth. The complexity of growing an organization in a short amount of time presented many challenges. In general, the timeline for bringing the production online was vastly accelerated due to MSTC.”
