Program Deferment Process

10.20.10

- Students who have submitted an Intent to Enroll form and who have been assigned a semester start date by the College will be considered to have accepted their assigned program slot. Upon notification, student should enroll in core program courses for their assigned term and participate in the program's orientation.
- If a student later determines that they are unable to start during their assigned semester, they will be given an opportunity to defer to the next program start if notice is given to the College at least 45 days prior to the start of the semester.
- If notice is provided less than 45 days prior to the start of the semester, the student will be required to submit a new Intent to Enroll form.
- If a student notifies the College that they cannot start core coursework during an assigned start term on two occasions, with or without 45 days notice, the student may be required to wait one year and must submit a new Intent to Enroll form.
