Meet the Instructors

Ted Melby

Workforce & Professional Development Corporate Trainer

Ted earned his journeyman machinist card early in his career before going on to earn a bachelor's degree in business administration and a master's degree in management and organizational behavior. He is currently pursuing his doctorate at UW-Stout. Ted joined Mid-State full-time in 2024 after more than 20 years of business leadership experience, including director of plant operations and maintenance at Wysocki Family of Companies and corporate director of procurement for Ministry Health Care. Other roles he's held include engineering program manager, product engineering supervisor, and purchasing manager.

Morgan Vanderhei

Instructor, Business Management

Morgan (also known as "Mo") earned her BS in business administration with minors in communication and economics from UW-Stevens Point. She started in outreach at Mid-State in 2019. Prior to that she worked as a marketing communications director for the Wisconsin Rapids Area Convention and Visitors Bureau (WRACVB). Being part of a smaller nonprofit for several years allowed her to take on many leadership roles, diversify her business experience, and engage with her community through involvement in a variety of organizations and events.
